READERSHIP

The Texas public power industry is comprised of municipal utilities, joint action agencies, rural electric cooperatives, and river authorities. The Texas Public Power Association (TPPA) monthly newsletter and annual directory are distributed free of charge to public power elected officials and electric utility personnel. Wide ranges of key decision-makers within the utility receive our publications including electric system managers, directors, and supervisory personnel. TPPA publications are also sent to TPPA corporate members, Texas Legislators, and Texas Congressional delegation, the news media, and others interested in the public power industry.

The TPPA Annual Directory of publicly owned Texas utilities lists addresses, phone numbers, elected officials, key personnel, and utility system characteristics for the state's municipal utilities, joint action agencies, river authorities, and rural electric cooperatives. The directory also contains a history of population and energy-related statistics and useful information about public power and TPPA. Related organizations, regulatory agencies, state legislators, and TPPA's corporate members are also included.

Advertisers and corporate members receive three service directory listings at no charge. Below is a listing of service directory headings (or you may create your own heading).
